

Table 14 Taking advantage of linked data

Jon Saunders, Head of Data Insights, GeoPlace

Linking the UPRN and USRN to different systems and datasets has often been a way of ensuring the gazetteer isn't missing a property or street. In an ever-changing world, the importance of data linking is growing, and it would be great to hear from participants as to how GeoPlace can assist them with data linking and the datasets that can help keep their gazetteers as up to date as possible.
